

Final thoughts:

I was not able to stop or rewind so these are very off the cuff comments. The footage was a bit overwhelming. The house is so huge and cluttered that it is very disorienting to watch. Also the officer we follow must be in charge and he is all over the place. He sticks in one room for a few minutes then shuffles between them so the footage is all over the place. However we hardly see the kids at all, and all the officers act very kind and patient with the family.

the footage was taken 05/23/24 and it starts at 9:11 AM

It starts in the police car as the officers approach the house

There is a dirty cat house/tower and filled trash bags on the patio officer sees kids inside the house through the window

It takes about six knocks from the police on the door yelling search warrant before someone responds

One of Nick's daughters can be heard saying that daddy told her not to answer the door

As soon as the door is open it is a literal labyrinth of clothes and "stuff". Hard to decipher where one room begins and another ends because every counter and table surface is covered in bottles, clothes, packages of food and indicators of kids and their toys live there. There is not a lot of space to walk around the piles of stuff either

They find "two females" (April and kayla) in the main bedroom. We have not seen them yet.

The six year old (stated by the officer) keeps saying something about her dad kept telling her not to let them in as the police begin to walk around the kitchen? (The main room, kitchen and dining room seem to be one big space but again hard to tell with furniture cues since everything is so cluttered and covered)

Kayla shows up with her arms up, a very dry voice. She seems lethargic and out of it

There is some kind of room they walk by (Kid's room? It has a rainbow ikea shelf in it) and it is completely flooded with junk and clothing. This room is an actual horder looking room

There are a few moments where the officer seems to be covering the camera with his hand, hard to tell if it is on purpose or accident literally just shit everywhere as they move about the house, just so many random pile of clothes

There is a stairway that has some kind of chair or loveseat? (it's the size of half of a couch) just turned over upside down at the bottom of the stairs that clearly was done before the cops showed up. Not sure what that is all about. They have a big fat fluffy orange cat though and its cute

Ten minutes in and we still have not seen Nick on camera

The garage is very cluttered, looks like they just moved in with all the boxes of stuff. Given it is the garage though it honestly looks like the most normal room in the house. Lots of filled packed luggage bags too the officer goes back upstairs and we get a quick close glimpse of one of the counters and we can see food wrappers, bottles, a box of goldfish (opened) at 9:23 we finally are outside and we see Nick meekly showing up in the driveway looking pissed, like he's about to cry and arms folded. He has short cargo shorts on and that shitty Jamaican colored tank

The cop goes back in and starts getting supplies and gloves to start drug testing stuff in the main bedroom. A lot of this part of the video is just the cops gathering supplies and talking about their attack plan on the house because it is so large and has so much stuff

We are in the bedroom to test. There is a lamp on the nightstand that just has a random tube balancing on top of it?? very very very cluttered space with lots of shit

It is important to note that the bedroom is right there in the main hallway of the house. You would easily walk by it everyday if you lived there. I say that because of all the shit they had in their room it would be very easily accessible to the kids. As you walk by the outside of the room you can look right under the bed and nightstands.

The cops keep saying that the "two adult females" were found in this bedroom together incredible amount of bottles and make up products and clothes. Booze bottles and water cups on window sills

The cop decides to go downstairs for a sec and give a quick scan of the stream room

we get a closer quick glimpse of the kitchen table, just covered in stuff and loose documents

We enter the stream room and oddly the ceiling doesn't seem finished, it just has these latex brand sheets covering it we head back upstairs to the bedroom, we can see shoes, garbage and lots of clutter at the top of the stairs, they seem pretty dangerous with all the junk around the stairs at 9: 31 we see him swab around the pillow and it tests positive for cocaine

Then we see him pick up a black vial, looks like a lipstick tube and when he unscrews it we see white powder. the officer responds with a "oh yea". He takes a picture of it

The officer says there is a measurable amount of cocaine in the bedroom at 9:33 "In that master bedroom, a measurable amount of cocaine."

They also find a "large" stack of cash according to them

An officer then states that Nick is asking about probable cause. "He wants to ask questions on probable cause."

The main officer we are following calls child protective services to the house

A senior officer who has been talking to Nick says that Nick "feels he's been hurt."

When calling family services at 9:37 the officer says " We located a measurable amount of cocaine and there are four children here."

During this we catch a glance at the main kitchen counter and it is just completely covered in booze bottles even over by the sink its a bit dark and confusing in the main part of the house and without pausing and rewinding I have a hard time making specific objects out at 9:39 we head outside to deal with April and Nick and finally cuff and arrest them.

April is in a really slutty top (i do not try to call out fellow women for how they dress but it really is inappropriate to wear around kids and a married couple regardless of any other factor) and its a black crop top that has a collar and its cut in a way that shows her cleavage heavily and her stomach is out. She has a HUGE piece of rock jewelry in her belly button as well

She looks and sounds so dry. Honestly it does not even look or sound like her. She actually looks like a tranny. Just very dry and unhealthy. For sure out of it and on something. Honestly might just be hungover. Her throat sounds like it's drowning in sand. I can not express how just gross she seems and out of it.

she is read her rights and refuses to speak without a lawyer. We see her corporate easily with the officers and she gets handcuffed and out in the car with ease. We see the other officer cuff nick and he is not fighting either. April asks for some shoes because she's barefoot

They keep asking her what room she has been hanging out in, she mentions the main room and kinda avoids the question (It seems obvious that she knew that her being in the bedroom with Kayla were all the cocaine was would get her in big trouble)

Nick does look still very pissed and arms still crossed before he is cuffed

The officer is very kind and heads back in to get her shoes which are just haphazardly placed at the top of the stairs

As the officer heads back in the house, the fat orange cat gets out and the kids (who have been outside on the patio/porch the whole time) say it can go outside. We can hear a kind officer asks the kids about their pets to calm them down. They seem to be actually ok no crying and in decent spirits. I think Kayla is with them until a woman from child protective services comes. She is the one in the white and black striped shirt

9:46 we are back in the main bedroom to keep testing stuff (the officer we are following seems to be the head honcho as he keeps moving in and out of every room and making the calls and shots throughout so we are often just walking around saying stuff)

As he enters back into the bedroom another officer mentions that they have found quite a bit of edibles in the room. They don't state what kind but it can be assumed weed (if you did not know they have edibles for shrooms, molly and other mixtures that are actually easy and common to get, but also gummies just being accessible in the bedroom bothers me) at 9:47 the officer finally tests the black vile and it's an instant blue swab. Cocaine right there on the bed stand. You could see it from the hallway

He continues to shuffle through the stuff on the bed stand but the angle makes it a bit difficult to see exactly what is testing and touching on the stand then an officer tells him they found the rifle under the bed

the main officer heads out of the bedroom again and we see a female officer taking care of Kayla, getting her ready to be dressed and sent to jail with the others we go back into the bedroom and we see the rifle in its box on the bed. The box is literally just a cardboard box and the rifle is just sitting in it with styrofoam. Not locked up at all and it's a huge rifle at 9:50 we hear an officer say that they found two spent casings in the bedroom found snort tube on nightstand, tests positive for cocaine, and it's the first piece of evidence bagged

There are some open drinks and tubes on the bed stand the black vial is bagged up as evidence

Two credit cards in the name of April are found, and both the snorttube and the black vial were found right on top of the cards at 9:54 we hear them say that someone named Celeste had their medication right on the bed stand literally right next to the cocaine vial, snort tube and credit cards

the officer moves down to search around the floor around the bed and stand and we see that the bedstand has actually been the red fridge Nick has been bringing around the whole time. He opens it and I can only make out some jars of jam on the door from the angle. So food was there for sure. Food and meds on top of a easily accessible stand next to cocaine

There is a white stuffed animal and a hairbrush at the foot of the fridge right next to the bed so it does seem like the kids come in here, given that there are a few toys around on the floor.

There seems to be a small laptop also stuffed into the space between the bed and fridge and the light looks like its on. there is no comment on this by any officer the rifle number is 20 00 2638 and has MULTIPLE magazines with it in the bedroom says one of the officers at 10 we here them say they found even more edibles in the bedroom

They confirm again that the rifle was found under the bed

One officer pulls out a metal funnel? vial? object that is found with another glass vial with some kind of white powder in it. This was found in the shelf under the TV in the bedroom. They test the white powder and there is a faint blue on the swab and the officer indicates that this means it could be a "mixture" he bags it for evidence

10:03 they find some weed pipes and test them for other drugs an officer comments at 10:04 in frustration that there is just so much stuff in here. The main officer tells them to be mindful of needles as he now believes it could be a possibility

They are just continuing to dig through all the shit on the floor. There is a big luggage case that he opens up and it is completely packed with clothes and objects. The suitcase was already under a huge pile of clothes he pushes off of it at 10:06 the officer decides to split up the team. He is leaving the bedroom to the others as he wants to go down and test Nick's studio. One of the other officers calls it a "little lair" lol

they also find April's purse in the bedroom we head downstairs to the studio at 10:08 and we also cross paths with the child protective service woman

There is a very cluttered and full library room right before you enter the studio. There are 4 monitors (with the joker painting tucked behind them out of sight lol) and they are still on and it looks like he ended some stream.

Very full cluttered shelves that the officers dig through, they oddly keep finding random 5 dollar bills throughout his junk. It looked like some of them might have been dollar origami? but some of them were just stuffed into cups or penholders

The officer testes a few things he finds but nothing suspicious besides ton of bottles and trash seems to be in here

One officer does find some baggy of weird stuff. They guess maybe cloves or pepper. The main officer thinks it might be a whiskey starter?

then an officer brings a big metal safe down at 10:12 and they said they found it in the bathroom. We can see a dirty ziplock baggie poking out of it. The officer says he will deal with it in a bit and they go back upstairs at 10:16 we are just rummaging through the black shelves and testing random bits but nothing is really down here at 10:17 the officers with the safe returns and asks for help with it and we go up to a small red bathroom on the main floor. (I have to assume this is the main bathroom everyone uses when they don't need to shower and the safe was found in here. The officer says it was under the sink but the sink is one of those pillar sinks so there is no bottom. I wonder if it was just tucked off to the side?!)

The safe is opened up and the contents are spread across the top of the toilet bowl for testing and evidence collecting. We can see a scale, blue snort tubes and very dirty ziplocks with cards and powders in them at 10:19 he tests the cards and bag in one of the ziplocks and it tests positive for cocaine

Now we start bagging all of the objects in the bathroom safe and calling them out as evidence

Evidence 8: large corner cut (this is what they called the large bag with a huge amount of white substance in it) he will test it when they get back he says evidence 9: ziplock baggy containing multiple baggies, one baggy has powder and it has KKK written on it evidence 10: ziplock baggy containing multiple baggies with powder evidence 11: digital scale evidence 12: metal object (funnel? the officers are unsure) containing powder evidence 13: two snort tubes, plastic straws, and two cutters after packing up all the contents in the safe at 10:23 we head back downstairs to the studio to continue testing he goes through some drawers and they are just packed with objects and loose documents at 10:25 they continue to search through the library that is outside the studio room and we then go back up the bathroom the double check for any evidence we get a sight of a skeleton model that is just hanging out in the open space of the living room. We also see a dining room table? by the windows just completely covered in junk and food packages at 10:26 we head into a bathroom with a hot tub. Oddly even tho there is a ton of stuff in here as well, the floor is pretty clear of junk and it the cleanest of the rooms. Soooo many lotions and make up products are all over the counters and of course more booze bottles empty and half full on the counter and window sills

There are many windows in the entire house that just have booze bottles on them at 10:30 we are still digging through the hot tub room

They head into some kind of laundry room and it barely has any visible floor. Just piles of clothes and filled laundry baskets.

There is a hallway window and there are two bottles of booze, and right next to them on the same window sill are little teddy bear figures. sad.

I can not tell what kind of room we are in at 10:38 but it seems to be some kind of closet room or bedroom? It just has shelves and MORE clothes. There is just a huge rack of soooo many adult clothes right in the middle. He digs through a random trinket box and finds another bullet inside that he takes as evidence at 10:36 we find another safe and the officer searches for kayla to get the code so they don't have to bust it open like he said

Then we head back into the garage and right before it crashes on me an officer says that they FOUND TWO HANDGUNS HANGING OUT IN THE GARAGE

it ended at 10:37:27 for me
