Good evening,

Please clarify via what mechanism the April 3, 2026 subpoena was served. Without waiving the legal sufficiency of any particular method of service (and indeed, we continue to contest that issue), as I noted in my April 13, 2026 correspondence I have no record of having received the April 3 subpoena from you.

This is indeed unusual. You emailed the first subpoena on March 24, and Thom Prince emailed the second one on March 30, but I have no record at all that anybody at KUSK emailed the third subpoena. If you did, please tell me who that would have been one on what date. I will undertake an appropriate investigation as to what might have happened.

Best,

Good morning,

I note that I have not received a response to my below inquiry relating to any possible efforts on your part to serve the April 3, 2026 subpoena. In an abundance of caution and without conceding that service has been accomplished whether electronically or otherwise, I am attaching written objections.

You will note that I have included an offer of resolution pursuant to Fed. R. Evidence. 408, and therefore I expect you will want to carefully review section IV of my letter as well as the attached Exhibit B.

Best,

Good evening,

My records do not reflect that you have taken efforts to serve this (below) subpoena in the same manner you served the others. Even if I assume that the ECF system notification below constitutes service (which, to be clear, I do not), objections to the below subpoena would be due on or before Friday, April 17.

Please confirm whether your view is that the below subpoena from April 3, 2026 has been served, and if so by what method and on what date. I am in receipt of your request to confer as to the first subpoena (issued March 24, objections served April 7). I suspect you are also now ready to confer on the second subpoena (issued March 30, objections served earlier today). Ideally, I'd like to confer about all extant subpoenas at once rather than piecemeal, because I assume certain issues (or perhaps most or even all issues) overlap. My suggestion would be that we set a date 15 or more days after the final subpoena has been served so that all subpoenas are ripe for discussion and our conferral is most fruitful.

Best,
