link sanitization, anti-xss. cloudflare for preventing denial of service, maybe they filter injections too for this site but i can't remember. if you try and inject javascript or whatever into the url, 4chan's server will "ban" you but it has never worked. just prevents the attack from working.

If they managed to keep it going long enough most of the exploits would no longer work because exploit authors would assume nobody would still be on PHP5 which I am sure they are still on because upgrading would require updating a lot of code.

Zoomers are faggots who just diss us and want the previous generation (millenials) to be arrested and imprisoned for thought crimes (liking young girls) or speech crimes (drawings). They want "boomers" and "millenials" ("also boomers") to be swatted in their homes and executed.

They are simply enemies.

They hate freedom of speech.

They hate cute young girls.

They Love Jesus Christ the "millstoneator"

They hate old testament God because he allows child brides.

They just make up new definitions for greek/hebrew/latin if it doesn't fit their beliefs, and then call you a skizo for consulting a learned treatise or posting the page of definitions from said learned treatise refuting their re-definitions. (ie: they claim na'ar doesn't mean child in ancient hebrew, they claim puella doesn't mean young girl in latin, they claim paida doesn't mean child in greek, while calling you a paedophile (padia+philos), they simply repeat this again and again and "win". They say you are a skizo for citing the Oxford English Greek Lexicon, or the Oxford Latin English dictionary)

They think they are superior because they have a cell phone, and for NOT knowing C, and wish to deplatform and delete all our opensource projects and remove the "sexist males" from those men's own projects they wrote themselves.

And they took down our discussion website, and declared it can never go back out

>Because the source code is out, hhahaha

As if all opensouce projects don't have their source code available and run the whole internet (Linux, NetBSD, OpenBSD, KALSR, Grsecurity)

They are simply enemies.

Why do Zoomers think we need to update to their newly brigaded and taken over version just because they "DEEPPREEECIATED" half the scripting language and ripped out all the functions we use for no reason?

It's just like SystemD when they pulled that.

Don't Zoomers know if they keep fucking with us we can kill them dead? If they keep deplatforming our programmers and throwing them out of their own projects and laughing in their face?

Do they know the concept of "libel" and "slander": and thart "DURRR BUT IT WAS ALL __TRUE__ STUFF" doesn't work for the original definitions of the words?

And the original penalty was a duel or death?

Keeping the servers "up to date" is NOT the fucking ROOT ISSUE.

Being on a now Zoomer-Faggot controlled update treadmill is not the solution. It's the other side of the insecurity coin.

The solution is things like Grsecurity patch to the linux kernel, which has been violating the GPL for many years now. (yes adding additional restrictions is a violation, regardless of no one shelling out one half of one million dollars to sue them in federal court (because that's the minimum it would take to win))

GRsecurity (linux), KALSR (NetBSD), would have squashed the memory exploit the moment it was attempted.

Did you forget the words "Grsecurity" and "KALSR" or did you, Zoomer, just ignore them because you didn't know what they are?

>>105106217 #

If it had kernel level memory protection it wouldn't have been exploitable. Grsecurity used to be COMMON on ALL linux forward facing boxen.

UNTILL GRsecurity chose to violate the linux kernel copyright, the part that states there shall be no restrictuions furthur emplaced upon redistribution of derivative works.

Grsecurity placed a "no redistribution" restriction on their Linux patch and their GCC patch.

You Zoomers here claim that is "fine"

"because it is just a PATCH, Linus doesn't own it"

And then you post memes when it's pointed out that the original copyright owner has the right to control ALL derivatives and ANNOTATIONS.

And that includes patches.

You then just call us "millenials" and "boomers": skitzos, and dismiss us while calling up the Bar association to try to get us disbarred, and the FBI to try to get us swatted.

You are pieces of shit.

And simply enemies.

>>105106199 #

Bingo

>>105106217 #

Because one of you Zoomers intentionally attacked it.

And because GRsecurity chose to violate the GPL making linux an unviable platform for hosting forward facing content.

And FreeBSD was used instead.

Which lacks any memory protection and KALSR wasn't known by M00t (netbsd)

Zoomers hate freedom of speech, loli, and anime.

So they project that their project to end that via "taking down" 4chan will be permanent.

Zoomers commonly swat "boomers" and "millenials" they don't like to try to kill them, and report men who like cute anime drawings to the FBI to try to have them imprisoned or killed.

Zoomers claim they "disbarred" me also; so that's another thing they do.

They also throw the original programmers out of their own projects, in opensource land.

Zoomers are just entriest enemies and millenials and boomers should start using force against them as they enter adulthood. They're like red guard maoists.
