PRESS RELEASE

Never before has the attempt been made to make clear the interaction between heaven and earth and to make visible the influences of the spirit persons [God, Jesus Christ, Satan] on humanity, society and individuals.

Contrary to popular belief, God, Jesus Christ and Satan are not abstract beings in heaven. No, rather we are dealing with very powerful spiritual beings who have feelings, just as we humans do, and therefore also act partly impulsively out of feelings.

The signs of the times and the current world situation point to a certain imbalance, not only in our society.

The author, Philipp Fusz, has succeeded in building up an arc of suspense that illuminates human history from its origins to the present day, examining the relevant events analytically, if not even forensically, and in doing so deals with the three respective prevailing theologies in the Bible, presenting them in a comprehensible structure as well as language with visual material in an appealing way and deriving concrete courses of action.

Furthermore, the mystery of the 1,000-year kingdom of Christ is revealed and a well-founded outlook based on facts is given.

Besides many new insights, secrets never have been seen and published before, the reader can also examine a new relative theory of the nature of every human being.

This Book is ideal for any reader, with an advanced spirit and keen interest in humanity but incremental for all persons who hold a function or leading position in the fields of economy, science, politics and entertainment, and also for all religious persons.

The Book will make it possible to understand the impossible! Over 2,000 years, mankind tries to understand when the Kingdom of Jesus Christ will appear and what this will have for consequences. Furthermore, Jesus did say to his Apostle before returning to Heaven, that there are secrets, which his close Followers could not comprehend. Philipp Fusz is the first person since the event, who actually can explain everything and opens up the door about the secrets, Jesus Christ has spoken. It is a true historic milestone, which will go down in history for sure.

[Amazon Publishing Pros, 17595 - Harvard Ave, Irvine, California, 92614, USA]:

"We've been giving your manuscript a read and are in awe. In this era of chaos and confusion, your work will certainly create awareness about the correct and true idea of God and His will. It will also go a long way in solving the mysteries regarding the right path- something humanity has been striving to find since antiquity. Kudos for coming up with a logical and rational masterpiece to define such a complex matter, which often has been thought of as beyond man's mental capability."

The Truth About God, Jesus Christ and Satan: A New Reflected View of Epochal Dimensions is written by Philipp Fusz, the Founder and CEO of Philipp Fusz [<https://philippfusz.com>], an international specialized TOP-Management Consulting Corporation, which aims to deliver long-lasting advice by providing a holistic view best shared with the owner and advisory board of the respective company. His buy in, in having the entitlement to write this sophisticated book is primary his extensive theological foundation due his strict evangelical childhood and regular worship service and Bible read. Due to his profession, his international academic and professional career, he is able to connect both – the theological foundation with the reality, life – and thus delivers a masterpiece never written before. Philipp is a self-confessed European and feels comfortable in a global mindset.

THE AUTHOR – BIOGRAPHY

Philipp Fusz was born on 18 September 1987 in Memmingen and grew up in the tranquil town of Kempten (Allgäu) in a strict evangelical household. After graduating from technical college, the author began an apprenticeship as a bank clerk at a leading German private bank in the Munich/Bavaria South region, which he successfully completed. After completing his civil state service, Philipp Fusz began his studies in business administration, which he completed via various stations in Germany and abroad with Bachelor of Arts (Hons) and then with Master of Science in Munich, Germany.

Due to his analytical perception and keen intuition, his professional career quickly took him from Frankfurt (Main) to Hamburg during his studies, where he gained various insights in a wide range of internationally oriented management-related positions in the field of strategy and controlling in the chemical, raw materials and energy industries as well as in audit-related accounting consulting for capital market-oriented companies at a leading international auditing firm.

In his private life, the author likes to be active and multicultural, preferably in a sunny environment close to the water. His favourite club is Liverpool FC, the first time being live at Anfield Road in 2007.

Philipp Fusz is a self-confessed European and feels comfortable in a global mindset.
